Sweet Hand
Caribbean home cooks · Toronto & the GTA

You have a sweet hand.

Let Toronto find it.

Sweet Hand for Caribbean caterers and home cooks in Toronto and the GTA. Opens Thursday 26 November 2026.

Right now, people find you by word of mouth

A cousin

who tells a friend

A church group

and the next christening

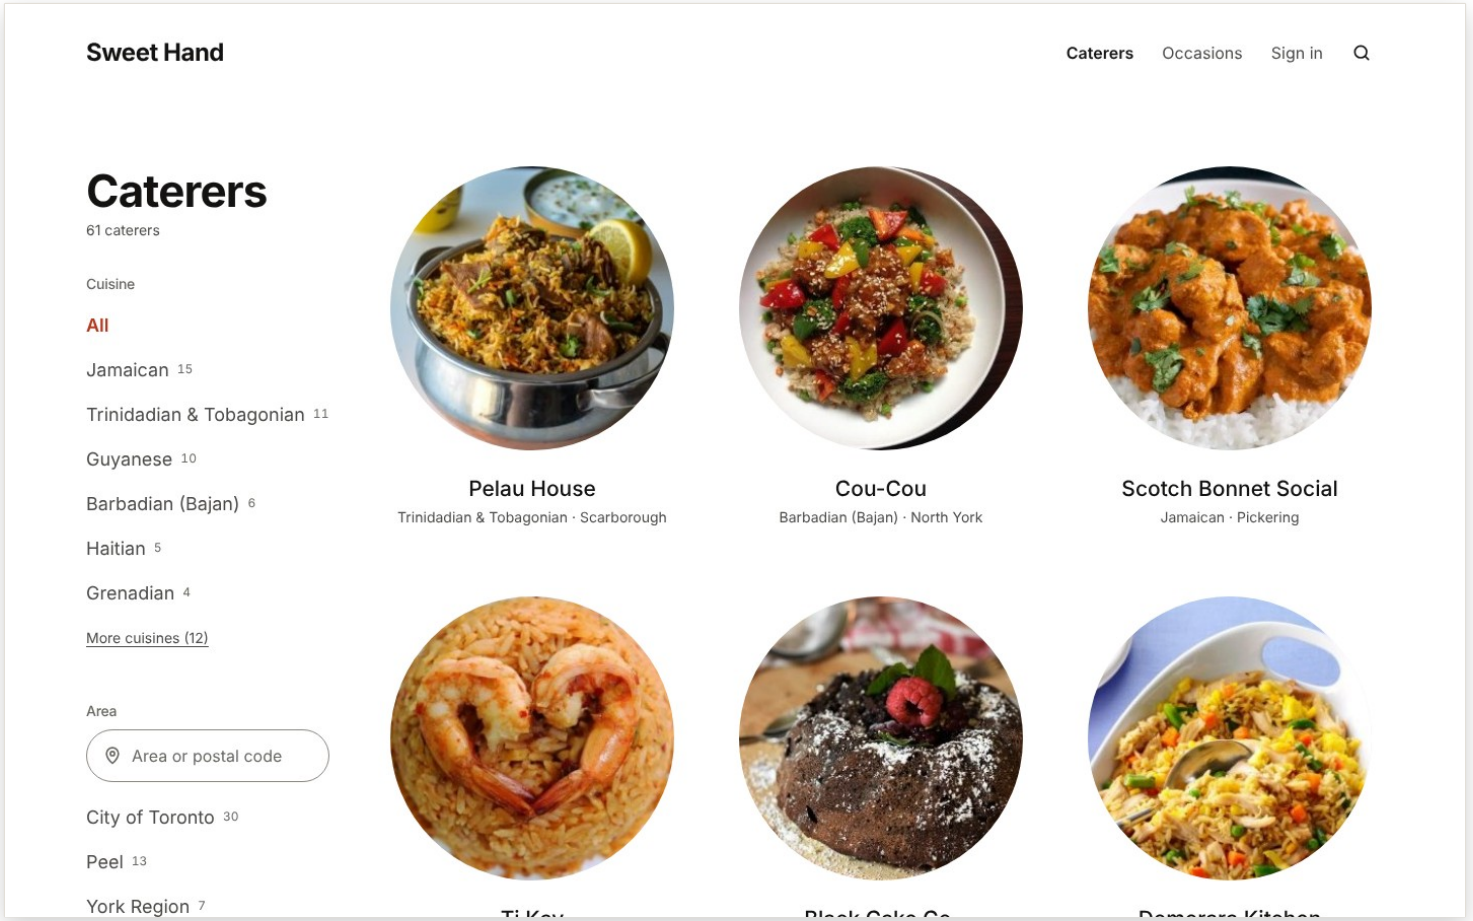

3

A WhatsApp chat

that scrolls away by Sunday

Everybody asks who made the pelau. The black cake is gone before the speeches. But the people planning the next wedding have no way to find you.

One place to find Caribbean caterers

People search by tradition, by area and by occasion.

Jamaican

Trinidadian and Tobagonian

Guyanese

Barbadian (Bajan)

Haitian

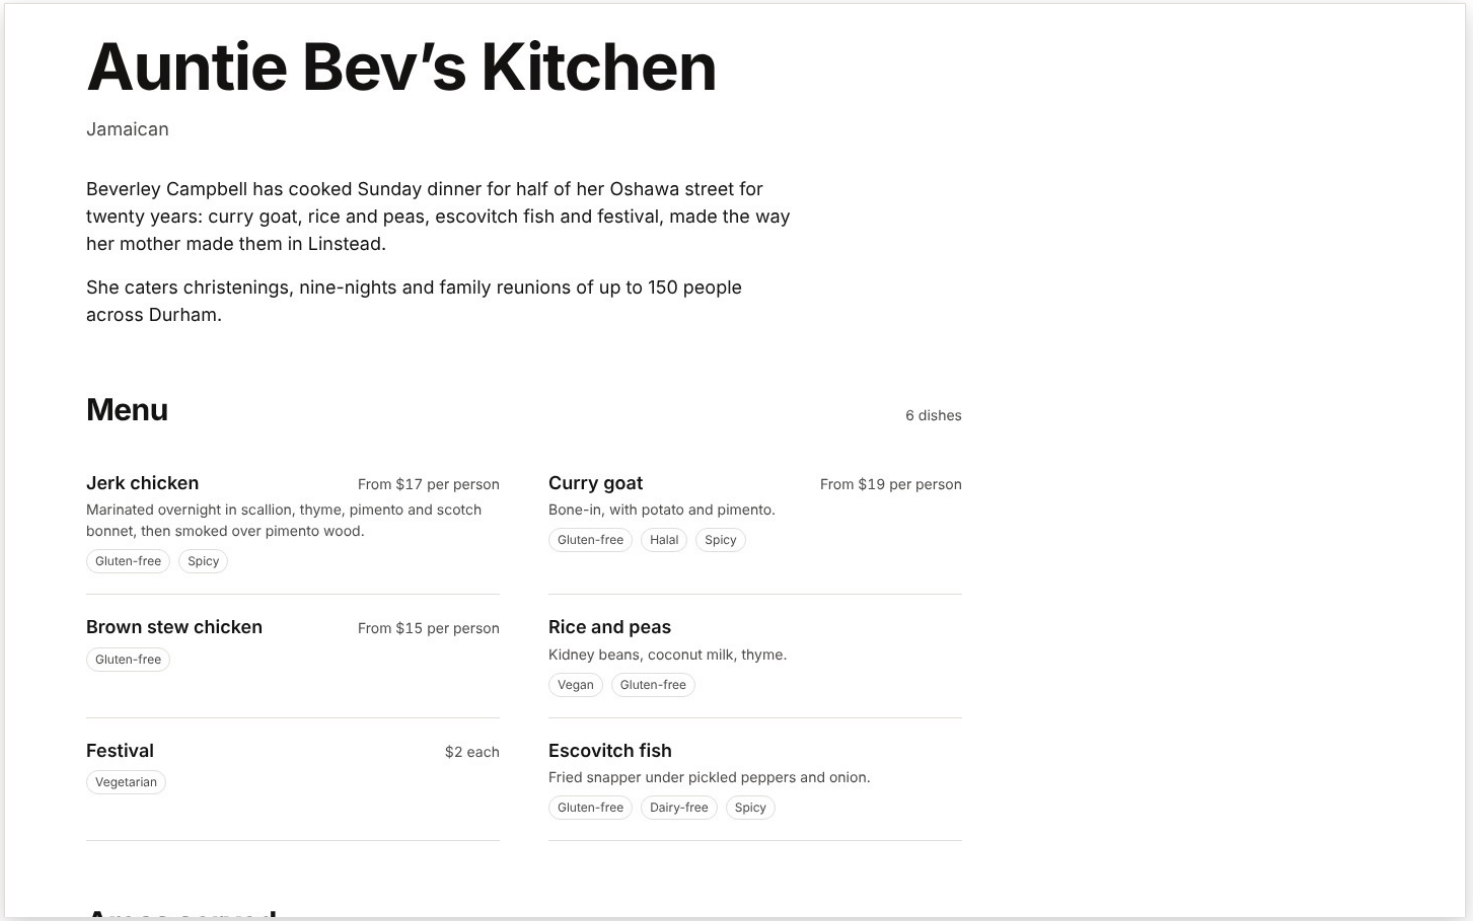

Grenadian

Vincentian

St. Lucian

Each tradition by name, never just "Caribbean".

Auntie Bev's Kitchen

Jamaican

Beverley Campbell has cooked Sunday dinner for half of her Oshawa street for twenty years: curry goat, rice and peas, escovitch fish and festival, made the way her mother made them in Linstead.

She caters christenings, nine-nights and family reunions of up to 150 people across Durham.

A menu people can trust at a glance

Every dish can carry dietary and allergen tags from one fixed list, shown as labels, not buried in the description.

Vegetarian Vegan Gluten-free Dairy-free

Halal Contains nuts Contains shellfish Spicy

You choose the tags for your own dishes. Sweet Hand does not certify or inspect kitchens.

Cuisines and areas

Your page saves as you go. A checklist shows what is left. When it is complete, you send it in and our team reviews it within 3 business days.

Your kitchen, your rules

Free to list

No listing fee and no commission. You agree the price with your customer.

You set the menu, the batches and the days

You decide what you cook, how much, and which enquiries you take.

Your home address stays private

People see the areas you serve, never your address. Your phone and email stay private until you share them.

Food handler details are your own statement: only you and the Sweet Hand team see your certificate.

100

A free photoshoot for the first 100 caterers who register

What you get

10 of your dishes, shot in our studio in downtown Toronto. About 90 minutes. You bring the food and keep the photos.

What we ask

A complete profile on Sweet Hand, and a launch-day post on 26 November.

To confirm

How "first 100" is counted, the last day to book, and how shoot days are booked. Ask your sales person.

Coming ideas we are exploring

Not promised. Not at launch. No dates.

Exploring

Delivery

We are exploring delivery through a courier partner. At launch, you agree pickup or delivery with each customer yourself.

Exploring

Awards

We are exploring awards, for example "GTA's Best Jerk Chicken". No categories, rules or dates yet.
